

There will be different types of cryptids occupying the Roguelike System that have one of the unique behaviors for invading the bnb. These are just for flavor and to try and force a spread of where they occupy on the map and are not strict to aesthetics. (could potentially put a randomization variable and depending on the number that the cryptid that it presents as)

- Break through floors: If a cryptid has this particular behavior they will enter the bnb by breaking through the floors/the middle of the map.
- Break through windows: If a cryptid has this behavior they can only come through windows/edges of the map.
- Only enter through doors: Having this behavior means they can only enter in through the main doors of the bnb.

All cryptids will have the same “basic” attack that lands on the player and Employees, but each cryptid will also have an ability or feature that sets them apart from the other.

Basic Enemy:

- Can enter from anywhere
- TBD aesthetic
- Low level and terribly weak
- No abilities
- Deals only 1HP, melee attack, not distanced

Different Ideas for Cryptids:

- Mothman
  - Only enter through doors
  - Has a stun ability
  - If their attack lands they will be able to keep the attacked (both player and Employees) from making any attacks against them for [2] seconds.
  - Stun will be on a cooldown to prevent being able to spam it, so they'll only be able to use it [10] seconds after using it initially. (scope knife can go to this, need be)
  - Best way to survive against them would be keeping your distance from them to avoid the stun or sacrificing Employees for the stun to then attack the cryptid yourself
- Fresno Nightcrawler
  - Break through windows
  - Utilizes speed to escape from incoming attacks
  - Low health but they gather in clumps to overwhelm
  - Sort of like the midget enemy in Borderlands, super annoying
  - SUUPEERRR ANNOYING
  - Best way to defeat them would be to trap them using the walls abilities and then going for the kill
  - Ability: when close to death [10hp], they project a separate, almost transparent image around the player. This separate image has the ability to attack and deals half damage to the player but only has [5hp] itself. If the original nightcrawler dies it also dies.

- Talonfoot of Rocky Ridge
- Stinkfoot/mossfoot
- Prowler of Pine Falls
- Snarlboo (wolf)
- Shrieklet (bird cryptid)
- Snappytooth
- Glowtail of Firefly Pond (lizard hybrid)
- Shortsnout (hog)
- Squonks
- New Jersey Demon/Flappyhooves
- Flutterman (mothman)
- Goatman/Bleatbuddy
- Bunny Man
- Plunderbird/Fluffstorm (thunderbird)
- Beast of Bray Lake
- Chompy (Chupabara)
- Pigglezilla
- Wingdingo (winged dingo)
- Hootie of Grove Hollow (owl)
